

Know exactly if, when, and where service occurred with completely automated verification for COMMERCIAL COLLECTION.

Let drivers drive. We'll handle the rest.

The Solution

Introducing the 3rd Eye Commercial Refuse Solutions Suite, powered by Verif-Eye® - your ultimate operations toolkit. Our experienced 3rd Eye team specializes in the refuse industry and is committed to expanding our range of solutions to tackle unique challenges in various commercial applications.

Verif-Eye enables you to effortlessly verify service completion as your drivers navigate their routes. As drivers operate their vehicles, our system captures photographic evidence of service events for your peace of mind. Our user-friendly interface allows operators to easily confirm service exceptions, simplifying the process. If a driver forgets to confirm a pickup, a seamless experience enables you to access video footage of any missed service with a single click.

At 3rd Eye, we collaborate with equipment manufacturers and have in-depth knowledge of how your individual vehicle and body solutions function. Our industry expertise helps elevate your operations by providing insights of the individual customer behind each service event. The integrated service options incorporate customer data and provide insights into the individuals behind each service event. This valuable information, along with supporting media, geocoordinates, and time and date stamps, is readily available on the 3rd Eye portal in near real-time.

Our dedication to continuous improvement is fueled by your success. With 3rd Eye service review solutions, our team of experts can analyze each event based on your specific criteria, such as identifying overloaded containers. We are here to support you, offering our best practice guidance at every step of the way!

3rd Eye complete fleet management solutions.

Verif-Eye - Commercial Refuse

Positive service verification solution, custom-designed for commercial waste collection.

The Challenges

Understanding commercial waste collection operations in the field can be complex. You deploy your fleet to serve customers and drive success, yet new challenges emerge daily. In the specialized world of refuse collection, it's crucial to know whether your fleet is meeting your daily expectations. Coordinating various types of routes and ensuring that the right customers receive the appropriate service can be a logistical challenge.

In the refuse industry, there is a wide array of equipment types needed to cater to your customers' needs effectively. Moreover, you may have to work with various equipment manufacturers, further complicating the process. With so many factors at play, it's no surprise that your team might occasionally face difficulties. While you may already have a strong operations team, partnering with 3rd Eye® digital can help elevate your team further to best-in-class status!
